State requirements for requalification are no LESS than 4 months apart nor MORE than 6 months apart. Two (2) requalifications must be completed each year in the life of the 2-year permit.

WARNING: If the guard exceeds 6-months between requalifications, even by a single (1) day, the guard must start over entirely with a new exposed firearms permit. There is NO GRACE PERIOD with an exposed firearms permit.

“A BSIS Firearms Permit expires two years from the date of issuance. In order to renew the permit, the applicant must: have completed two (2) range qualifications on a firing range every twelve (12) months and at least four (4) months apart. Applicants must complete four (4) total range qualifications prior to renewal of the Firearms Permit at a Bureau-approved firearm training facility and from a Bureau-approved firearm training instructor. All range qualifications must be certified by a Bureau-approved Firearms Training Facility.” - BSIS Firearms Permit Fact Sheet.
